During the 120th anniversary of Antoine de Saint Exupéry, this action is all the more symbolic as it has made it possible to show the positive initiatives around the link that exists between men by observing the sky, one of the few activities possible anywhere in the world given the current health context.

Led by Shaibata Mrabihrabou, President of the Association Les Amis de Tarfaya and of the Museum « Antoine de Saint Exupéry ». In this mythical stopover, this workshop allowed children to discover the stars and constellations of the sky in the middle of the desert, a magical place that inspired The Little Prince to Antoine de Saint Exupéry.

The Bivouac foreshadows the installation of an Astronomical Observatory in Tarfaya, supported by the Antoine de Saint Exupéry Youth Foundation.

Discover the trailer of the show

" The Little Prince Slam! » is an ambitious and innovative show in its form which respects the letter, the spirit, and the message of the cult work of Antoine de Saint-Exupéry.

The meeting is crossing a text and a slammer, Fafapunk, whose precise scansion and warm voice will carry the words of the narrator and the Little Prince, transmit their words, and tell their story.

The meeting, is a reaction, between a literary work and a musical ambition which results in constituting a melodic setting for the story, through musical pieces played by Tomislav Matosin on a baritone guitar.

Antoine de Saint-Exupéry Sauvons la planète du Petit Prince Jean Pierre Gueno

Author and historian, Jean-Pierre Guéno, presents another face of Antoine de Saint Exupéry: avant-garde ecologist with visionary hope. The author-aviator set himself up as the guardian of our planet's treasures in the 1930s. This prophet reporter is committed to humanity.

The environmental dimension of the work and the life of Saint Exupéry thus crosses us and questions our relations to time, space, material and spirituality. This whistleblower was already defending a resolutely new definition of the environment which took into account the human presence and its shaping of the urban, social and economic environment.

Updated edition « Flight to Arras » Antoine de Saint-Exupéry

In June 1940, the 2/33 Grand Reconnaissance Group had lost, in vain missions, seventeen of its twenty-three crews. In their turn, Anthony of Saint Exupéry, pilot captain, and his observer, lieutenant Dutertre, are summoned by Commander Alias.

Their task: "Fly over at an altitude of 700 meters, the tank parks of the Arras region."

For having brought back his crew safe and sound during this mission despite an aircraft riddled with bullets, he will be awarded the French War Cross with palm and quoted to the order of the Air Force, June 2, 1940.

This special edition went out on the occasion of the 80th anniversary of the missions on Arras and is published in the Beaux Livres collection by Gallimard editions with drawings by Bernard Lamotte, friend of Antoine de Saint Exupéry.
